The central image shows the Autel ADAS IA900WA wheel alignment system. It features a red and black frame with a central vertical column and horizontal arms. A monitor is mounted on the central column, displaying a software interface. Two black and white checkerboard targets are positioned on the horizontal arms. A red car is partially visible on the right, with its front wheel on a lift. Blue laser lines are projected from the system, creating a grid for alignment. A red horizontal line is positioned below the product name.

ADAS IA900WA

Technological innovation is constantly evolving and our experts are becoming more and more skilled: from control units to tires, they are ready to solve any problem. That's why Autel developed a wheel alignment and ADAS calibration system able to perform these two similar and closely related functions, saving time and simplifying the procedure.

IA900WA is the only tool on the market that can perform wheel alignment pre-check and comprehensive ADAS calibration on all vehicles. Live data make wheel alignment simple and effective: using the values on the tablet it is possible to manually adjust the frame.

The ADAS software also allows easy and precise calibration through guided step-by-step instructions.

WHEEL ALIGNMENT

IA900WA Cameras automatically track the height of wheel targets during lifting and automatically compensate for uneven surfaces in all directions.
